The Complete Guide to Every Ending

34 heroines · 101 endings · 30 days until Starfall

Contains spoilers for every route and ending.

How to use this guide

Every heroine in Clichéton has two or three endings. You always get her main ending if you win her heart. Her other endings depend on how you played her route: what you said in her romance scenes, which dates you took her on, and how you handled her side events. This guide lists every ending, what makes it different, and how to reach it.

Choices are quoted as they appear in the game, sometimes shortened: "Like this." Scene names follow the game: First Meeting, Romance Scene I–III, The Morning After, the four dates, and her Starfall ending at the festival on day 30.

Most variant endings unlock a final option at the festival or switch on automatically. Getting a variant never locks you out of her main ending on a later run. Endings you have reached can be replayed from Memories or the Endings Gallery, with the same choices open.

The basics

Time

Thirty days, each with a Morning, Afternoon and Evening. Talking, romance scenes, dates, work and training each take one part of the day. Travel, shopping, gifts and private lessons take no time.

Affection & scenes

Each heroine has a first meeting and three romance scenes, unlocked at ♥30, ♥60 and ♥90. Scenes II and III also need her favorite stat at 2 and 3. After a romance scene she needs a couple of days before the next one, so court more than one heroine at a time. See all three to make her Devoted.

Stats

Train Might at the Arena, Wits at the Library or Academy, and Charm at the Tavern, Temple, Noble Quarter or Bathhouse. You can also buy private lessons on Market Street, at a climbing price. Stats unlock scenes and pass the checks inside them.

Gifts

One gift per heroine per day. Everyone has gifts she loves and one she hates. Repeating the same gift loses its charm, so mix it up.

Dates

After her first romance scene, ask her out to dinner, the Moonlit Gardens, the harbor or a picnic. Her favorite spot gives extra affection, and some dates open ending variants.

The festival

On day 30, choose a Devoted heroine to watch the stars with. With five or more Devoted, a further option appears. You can also watch alone. A secret option waits on New Game+.

Finding people

The 👥 Who's Where panel shows where everyone you've met is right now and next, with a ★ when a romance scene is ready.

Chasing endings: general strategy

- Court two or three heroines at once. After each romance scene a heroine needs a couple of days, so spend them with someone else. A focused route takes about ten to fourteen days.
- Variants are decided mostly in Romance Scenes II and III, the morning after, and on dates. Read her entry before those scenes. Most variants need one or two specific choices, sometimes with a stat check.
- Save before Scene III and before the festival. You have three save slots plus save codes, so you can branch a run and try a different choice without replaying a month.
- New Game+ keeps your stats and gold. Later runs pass every stat check easily, which makes them ideal for picking up variants you missed. The Narrator also remembers you.
- Watch for side events. Marigold, Valeria, Ignivara and Rosalind each have a jealousy scene in which your answer can open (or close) one of their endings.

FERAL WEREWOLF GIRL

Fenna Moonfang

A wild, blunt werewolf who respects strength and loyalty above all else. Fenna falls for the one who doesn't run: stand your ground, play rough, and stay with her on the full moon.

HATES

Silver Dagger, Exotic Perfume, Scented Bath Salts

FAVORITE DATE

A picnic in Whisperwood

TIPS

- Raw Wyvern Steak is her favourite gift. Never give her a Silver Dagger, Exotic Perfume or Scented Bath Salts.
- Her favourite date is a Picnic in Whisperwood. You'll find her in the forest in the mornings and evenings.
- Might is her stat. Romance Scenes II and III need Might 2 and 3, and Might 3 also wins the big wrestling match.
- The full-moon night (Romance Scene III) matters: baring your throat opens Alpha of Whisperwood, and saying her name helps Ranger Moonfang.

☐ Pack of Two

MAIN ENDING

Fenna howls at the falling stars, a pack answers from the forest, and she kisses you hard: pack of two, forever. You build a cabin at the edge of Whisperwood and run beside her every full moon. This is the cosy, private take: just the two of you, and that's more than enough.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose "Kiss her under the falling stars." It's always on offer, whatever else you've unlocked.

☐ Alpha of Whisperwood

VARIANT

Her old pack steps out of the trees, and you stand beside her to face the alpha who cast her out. The wolves choose Fenna. She becomes Whisperwood's first two-legged alpha, and her one law is NOBODY HAS TO BE LESS. Expect pack meetings in your kitchen: this is the big, triumphant, pack-of-thirteen ending.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "Answer by tilting your head back and baring your throat to her."
- Plus any one of these: in First Meeting, pass "Stand your ground and look her in the eye." (needs Might 1). Or in Romance Scene II, pick "Accept the challenge and go all in." Winning and losing both count, and so does a failed tickle.
- At the festival, choose "Stand up beside her as the old pack comes out of the trees."

☐ Ranger Moonfang

VARIANT

Instead of hiding on the hill, Fenna runs down into the crowd with you. She sniffs out a lost dog while you read the tracks, and for the first time the town cheers her. She becomes Ranger Moonfang, the best tracker in the kingdom. In this ending the world finally grows big enough to fit her.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene I, pass "Study the tracks carefully." (needs Wits 2) or pick "Tell me about your old pack." Or in Romance Scene II, pick "Are you afraid of yourself?"
- And any one of: in First Meeting, pick "Sniff her back." In Romance Scene II, pick "Then I'll come with you. You don't have to be alone." Or in Romance Scene III, pick "Say her name, gently, again and again..."
- At the festival, choose "Come down the hill with me. Let them all meet the real you."

EVIL DOMINATING VAMPIRE

Countess Valeria Nocturne

A six-hundred-year-old vampire countess, used to being obeyed and bored of it. She warms to people who either surrender gracefully or dare to talk back. Underneath it all, what she wants most is to be chosen.

FAVORITE DATE

A stroll through the Moonlit Gardens

TIPS

- Vintage Bloodwine is her favourite gift, and carrying a bottle adds a bonus option on the Tipsy Wyvern dinner date. Avoid Blessed Candles, Silver Daggers and Saintly Relics.
- She only appears in the evening, at Castle Nocturne. Her favourite date is the Moonlit Gardens.
- Charm is everything with her. Romance Scenes II and III need Charm 2 and 3, and her boldest options need Charm 3 or 4.
- If you reach Romance Scene II with someone else while Valeria is mid-route (after her Romance Scene I, before III), expect her jealousy scene one evening. Two of its answers feed her variant endings.

☐ Consort of Eternal Night

MAIN ENDING

On her highest balcony she offers you immortality, and you put her off, either for ten years or for "soon". You become her consort on a second throne with your name in rubies, and every night she asks "still mine?" This is the classic gothic romance: devoted, a little wicked, and you stay mortal.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose either "Ask me again in ten years." or "Yes. Forever sounds about right." Both lead here.

☐ Bride of the Crimson Throne

VARIANT

You ask her to turn you tonight, under the falling stars, and she does, saying your real name the whole time. You wake up as her vampire bride. You're hopeless at being terrifying, you reform the tax code, and on Thursdays you lead the dance. It's the only ending where you truly share her forever.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene II, choose "Then I'm asking. Go ahead." Or in her jealousy scene, choose "Hold out your bare wrist..."
- And any one of: in First Meeting, choose "Kneel, with a theatrical bow." Or in Romance Scene III, choose "Yes, Mistress." (Failing the Charm 4 "you do as I say" check counts too.)
- At the festival, choose "Bare your throat to her under the falling stars. 'Not soon. Tonight. Make me yours.'"

☐ Honey Bread at Midnight

VARIANT

She offers you eternity, and you ask for her mother's honey bread recipe instead. On the forty-second loaf she smells it and weeps. She opens Nocturne's, a bakery that only opens at midnight, and never asks to turn you again because she likes you warm. In this tender, human ending, her nightly question becomes "how does it taste?"

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Only if you tell me something true about yourself first." This is where she tells you about the honey bread.
- Plus any one of these: in Romance Scene III, pass "...maybe tonight, you do as I say." (needs Charm 4) or choose "Sunrise." In her jealousy scene, say "I have friends, Valeria. You don't own me." Or on the Tipsy Wyvern dinner date, choose "Order the honey bread. Describe every bite to her."
- At the festival, choose "Keep forever. Teach me your mother's honey bread instead."

ANCIENT WISE ELF

Sylvaine Elderleaf

A 912-year-old elven archmage who insists she has nothing left to learn. Her route is about time. You can impress her mind or tempt her into foolishness, and either way you show her that a short mortal life can still be enough.

LOVES

Ancient Tome

LIKES

Rare Moonherbs, Imported Tea Set, Spell Scroll, Glitter Nail Polish, Silver Lute Strings

HATES

Great Battle Axe, Keg of Dwarven Ale, Horn of Honey Mead

FAVORITE DATE

Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor

TIPS

- Ancient Tome is her favourite gift. She hates the Great Battle Axe, the Keg of Dwarven Ale and the Horn of Honey Mead.
- Her favourite date is Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor, and going on it also unlocks Blue Hair, Again.
- Wits is her stat. Romance Scenes II and III need Wits 2 and 3, and passing any of her Wits checks unlocks The Last Apprentice.
- She's at the Grand Library in the morning and in Whisperwood Forest for the rest of the day.

☐ A Season Among Centuries — MAIN ENDING

She gives you a Silverbough seed, the gift elves give when they bind their life to someone, and you kiss as the stars fall. The tree grows silver in her glade. She teaches you magic, you teach her to cook, and she starts counting days instead of years. Bittersweet and gentle, she loves your short life as it is.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose "Close your hand around the seed, and kiss her as the stars fall."

☐ The Last Apprentice — VARIANT

You turn down the seed and ask for lessons, all of them. Studying deep magic slows your ageing, and over a century you go from her student to her rival to her equal. You finally beat her at Kings & Dragons, and it isn't a draw. In this ending you don't leave her behind, because you learn to keep up.

HOW TO GET IT

- Pass any one of these Wits checks: "Say something clever." in First Meeting (Wits 1), "Play a careful, patient game." in Romance Scene I (Wits 2), "Concentrate with everything you have." in Romance Scene II (Wits 3), or tracing her markings in Romance Scene III (Wits 4).
- At the festival, choose "Don't give me a seed. Give me lessons. All of them. I want to keep up with you."

☐ Blue Hair, Again — VARIANT

You ask her to stop being wise and come be foolish with you. She turns her hair blue, the way it was in her youth, and leaves town with you. She gets sunburnt ears, cheats at cards with magic, and learns to boil an egg over a campfire. This is the carefree road-trip ending, and her journal counts days now.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene I, choose "Play wildly and recklessly, sacrificing pieces everywhere." In Romance Scene II, choose "Get distracted by how close she is." or fail the "Concentrate" check (Wits 3). Or take her on the Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor date.
- At the festival, choose "Forget the tree. You've been wise for nine hundred years. Come be foolish with me."

TSUNDERE GUILD RECEPTIONIST

Mira Hartwell

The Guild's fiercest receptionist yells because she cares, and she knows every quest you've ever taken. Bear with the bluster and be kind when she finally cracks: this is a tsundere romance written in paperwork.

A picnic in Whisperwood

TIPS

- She loves Steamy Romance Novels and Cute Plushies. Never give her Raw Wyvern Steak, Fresh Fish or a Saintly Relic.
- Her favourite date is a Picnic in Whisperwood, and asking about her dream there unlocks Field Audit, Permanent.
- Might is her stat. Romance Scenes II and III need Might 2 and 3.
- She's at the Adventurers' Guild during the day and at the Tipsy Wyvern in the evening.

☐ Paperwork of the Heart

MAIN ENDING

Under the falling stars she says "I love you" without yelling, then hands you a marriage form she has already filled in. You sign, and she gives it her best stamp ever. You keep adventuring, she keeps the desk, and she still yells when you're late. Every lunchbox note reads: come home safe, idiot.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose "Sign it. Obviously."

☐ Field Audit, Permanent

VARIANT

You sign, then hand her the adventurer form she filled in nine years ago and never got stamped. She stamps it APPROVED herself. Mira becomes a Fighter: she audits dragons, hits goblins with her DENIED stamp, and yells "DUCK!" at you in dungeons. In this ending she finally leaves the desk to fight beside you.

HOW TO GET IT

- On the Picnic in Whisperwood date, choose "Did you ever want to be out here? Instead of behind the desk?"
- At the festival, choose "Sign it. Then hand her the old form from the picnic basket: her own, never stamped."

☐ The Other Side of the Desk

VARIANT

You sign, then ask for the desk next to hers, so she never has to check the casualty reports again. As Junior Registrar you scold rookies, yell "YOU'RE LATE" and slowly turn into her, and the Guild's survival rate goes up. Here you give up adventuring for her, and it suits you.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene III, choose "Were you... worried about me?" or "Wipe the tears from under her spectacles." Or in The Morning After, choose "Sign the form as witness, right under her line."
- At the festival, choose "Sign it. Then ask where you apply for the desk next to hers."

FAVORITE DATE

A stroll through the Moonlit Gardens

TIPS

- She loves Silver Daggers and Boxes of Fine Chocolates. She hates Exotic Perfume and Enchanted Quills.
- Her favourite date is the Moonlit Gardens. Charm is her stat, and Romance Scenes II and III need Charm 2 and 3.
- Romance Scene II is the big fork. Setting boundaries leads toward Room to Grow, and encouraging her leads toward Forever in My Garden.
- Her jealousy scene can come up once you reach Romance Scene II with someone else. Never tell her "I'm in love with someone else": that leads to the Locked in the Greenhouse bad ending.

☐ Forever in Bloom — MAIN ENDING

She claims the hilltop inside a ring of potted flowers, with Mr. Snips on guard, and promises to love you first, longest and hardest. You move in above her shop. She talks to a priestess about her feelings and only uses her knife on weeds (mostly). This is the middle path: healing, sweet and still a little intense.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose "Say nothing. Just hold her, and watch the stars fall." This is always on offer.
- Or, if you didn't set boundaries in Romance Scene II, choose "Marigold. Ask me the question..." and then "Not forever-forever. Not yet. But come here."

☐ Room to Grow — VARIANT

You tell her you're leaving on a three-week expedition, and she lets you go without following. While you're away she breeds a new golden flower that only blooms when it's left alone. She's still "a lot", just never "a lock". This is the growth ending, where her love learns to trust.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, set boundaries: pass "Be gentle, but firm..." (needs Charm 3) or choose "Sit down on the step next to her. 'Tell me why.'"
- Plus any one of these: in Romance Scene III, choose "That's huge progress. I'm proud of you." or pass "I'm yours, Marigold." (needs Charm 4). Or in The Morning After, choose "Gently: 'You're doing great. Now let me watch you for a while.'"
- At the festival, choose "Tell her about the guild expedition..."

☐ Forever in My Garden — VARIANT

She offers you a brass key to a room she has built in her greenhouse, and you say yes, lock and all. The lock is on the inside and you keep the key. It's the same roses and the same two sugars as the bad ending, except this time you chose it. Her yandere dream, happily accepted.

HOW TO GET IT

- Don't set boundaries in Romance Scene II: choose "...This is the most romantic thing anyone's ever done for me?" or fail the "Be gentle, but firm" check (Charm 3).
- At the festival, choose "Marigold. Ask me the question. The one you've been carrying in your apron pocket."
- Then choose "Yes. Forever. Lock and all."

KUUDERE ASSASSIN

FAVORITE DATE

Dinner at the Tipsy Wyvern

TIPS

- Honey Cakes are her one weakness. She hates Exotic Perfume, Bouquets of Roses and the Horn of Honey Mead.
- Her favourite date is Dinner at the Tipsy Wyvern.
- Wits is her stat. Romance Scenes II and III need Wits 2 and 3, and The Twin Shades depends on Wits checks, so raise it early.
- She's in Town Square in the morning, at Saltbreeze Harbor in the afternoon, and in the Noble Quarter or Town Square in the evening.

☐ The Quiet Blade Retires

MAIN ENDING

She arrives without her mask, carrying a basket of honey cakes, and you choose Plan A: a bakery, a warm kitchen, and her. She picks a name, Wren, and kisses you without checking the exits once. Her bakery, The Quiet Crumb, becomes famous, and she learns to laugh out loud. This is the gentle retirement ending.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose "Plan A. Honey cakes, a warm kitchen, and you."

☐ The Twin Shades

VARIANT

You choose Plan B and become her partner. She whispers her new name to you and nobody else. Together you become the Twin Shades, rooftop vigilantes who rescue kidnapped heirs, recover stolen funds and leave a honey cake for whoever hired them. She keeps doing what she's best at, but never alone again.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, pass "Scan the crowd methodically for anything out of place." (needs Wits 2).
- Plus any one of these: in First Meeting, pass "Notice her reflection in the fountain..." (needs Wits 1). Or in Romance Scene II, pass "Clean and stitch the wound carefully." (needs Wits 3).
- At the festival, choose "Tell me more about Plan B, partner."

TIPS

- She loves Steamy Romance Novels (of course) and Imported Tea Sets. Avoid the Keg of Dwarven Ale, Raw Wyvern Steak and the Horn of Honey Mead.
- She's only at the Grand Library, in the mornings and afternoons. Her favourite date is a Picnic in Whisperwood.
- Wits is her stat. Romance Scenes II and III need Wits 2 and 3, and Wits 4 opens an easy way to Out Loud.
- How you react to her manuscript in Romance Scene II matters: promising to keep her secret opens The Secret Life of Lady Velvet Ink.

☐ Our Story, Bound in Leather

MAIN ENDING

She gives you a book bound in blue leather, The Librarian and the Adventurer, published under her real name. You kiss her and tell her you're proud of her. It becomes FantasyLandia's bestseller, she survives her first book signing, and one day she becomes head librarian. In this ending she stops hiding for good.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose "Kiss her. 'I'm so proud of you.'"

☐ The Secret Life of Lady Velvet Ink

VARIANT

You tell her she doesn't have to put her real name on it. She crosses it out and writes Lady Velvet Ink, so the secret isn't just hers any more, it's yours together. The book takes the kingdom by storm while she quietly reshelves poetry, and the acknowledgements thank you as her "Research Consultant". The cosy, conspiratorial take.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, when you find her manuscript, choose "Hand it back gently. 'I won't tell anyone.'"
- At the festival, choose "You don't have to put your real name on it, Pell. Not unless you want to."

☐ Out Loud

VARIANT

You ask her to read the book aloud, right there on the hill. She starts in a whisper, and by the end of the chapter forty people are listening and applauding. She becomes Clichéton's most popular reader and packs out the Tipsy Wyvern. In the bravest of her endings, the shy librarian finds her voice.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, choose "Will you read something aloud to me?"
- Plus any one of these: in Romance Scene III, pass "Read the last line aloud anyway, softly." (needs Wits 4). Or in The Morning After, choose "Kiss her, slowly. Let the head librarian find what she finds."
- At the festival, choose "Read it to me. Right here. Out loud."

☐ Nine Lives, One Heart

MAIN ENDING

She wants to steal you a star, and you tell her she doesn't have to steal you anything. She realizes she already has the best thing there is. Kit goes (mostly) straight as the Guild's first Recovery Specialist, the orphans get a real roof, and every night she whispers the words in the locket: someone who stays.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. At the festival, choose "You don't have to steal me anything, Kit."

☐ The Phantom Paws

VARIANT

You've already cased Lord Pomfrey's new vault, and Kit is thrilled: partners forever, no going straight. As the Phantom Paws you only rob people who deserve it, and you return everything with an itemized list. The orphans get a school. In this rooftop-outlaw ending, the heists never stop.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, pass "I'm in. But we do it smart — I'll plan the route." (needs Wits 2).
- Plus any one of these: in First Meeting, pass "Figure out where she'll run and cut her off." (needs Wits 1). Or in The Morning After, choose "Best heist ever. Want to plan the next job?"

MAIN ENDING

She arrives in peace, carrying a royal treaty that gives her imps the Badlands, and watches her first open sky with you. When she asks where to go next, you choose the border: a castle with a sky, between both worlds. The Badlands bloom, and you serve as Royal Consort and Official Monologue Reviewer.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending. After the stars fall, she asks where the Dread Queen should go. Choose "The border. A castle with a sky. Both worlds, and me."

☐ Long Live the Dread Queen

VARIANT

You tell her to go home and take back her throne, with you ruling beside her. Ten thousand imps watch her crowned on a throne built for two. Then she has them dig through the cavern roof until daylight reaches the Underrealm. In this grand, imperial ending she conquers the world, starting with her own.

HOW TO GET IT

- When she asks where to go, choose "Home. Take back your throne. I'll rule beside you."
- This option unlocks once Lord Baalgrim is beaten in the Day 28 Starfall Heist. The heist always ends with him beaten, win or lose, so in a normal playthrough it's always there.
- There's also a backup unlock. It needs both "I take you seriously." in Romance Scene I and "Malzahra. You're the Queen. Show him." in Romance Scene II.

☐ The Nice Lady Next Door

VARIANT

You tell her to put the crown down and just be Malzahra. She drops it on Gnarlbit's head, makes him Regent, and moves into a farmhouse with you at the edge of the Badlands. She enters pie contests, learns her neighbours' names, and learns to knock. In this ending the Dread Queen finally gets a home and friends.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene I, choose "Do you actually want to conquer the world?" Or in Romance Scene II, choose "Nobody lives in the Badlands. What if you didn't have to conquer anything?"
- When she asks where to go, choose "Nowhere. Put the crown down. Just be Malzahra."

PURE PRIESTESS (SECRETLY CURIOUS)

FAVORITE DATE

A picnic in Whisperwood

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Blessed Candle; she also likes a Steamy Romance Novel, Honey Cakes, a Bouquet of Roses, an Imported Tea Set and Scented Bath Salts. Never give Vintage Bloodwine or a Silver Dagger.
- Take her on a Picnic in Whisperwood, her favourite date. She is at the Temple of the Radiant Heart all day (sometimes the Town Square in the evening).
- Charm is everything: her checks run Charm 1 to 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Charm 2 and 3 to unlock.
- Both variants hinge on your confession-booth answer in Romance Scene II, so pick your path before you get there.

☐ A Blessing of Our Own — MAIN ENDING

Celestine performs your wedding herself while the Abbess weeps through it. She keeps serving the Temple by day and comes home each night to a cottage by the orchards, with a cherry tree she climbs just because she can. Faith and family side by side, with her famous sermons on love retelling your story.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending: you get it whenever neither variant's conditions are met.
- Don't pair the dare in Romance Scene I ("Want to find out? Do one thing today you've never done before.") with "Say it to my face." in Romance Scene II.
- Don't pair a successful prayer in First Meeting (Charm 1) with "No penance. There's nothing to forgive." in Romance Scene II.
- Easy route: skip the dare in Romance Scene I, then choose "Say it to my face." in Romance Scene II.

☐ The Abbess of the Radiant Heart — VARIANT

The old Abbess climbs the hill and hangs her own key around Celestine's neck. The youngest Abbess in four centuries rewrites the vow of purity to read "Thou shalt not be lonely," marries you on the Temple steps and keeps its doors open all night. Here she leads the Temple instead of leaving or simply serving it.

HOW TO GET IT

- In First Meeting, choose "Kneel beside her and pray too." and pass the Charm 1 check.
- In Romance Scene II, at the confession booth, choose "No penance. There's nothing to forgive."
- Chosen automatically at the festival when both are true.

☐ The Road Less Hallowed — VARIANT

Celestine lets her gold ribbon fly away on the wind and vows to climb every tree in the world. You walk the kingdom together while she heals villages, blesses ships and writes the Abbess monthly "Confessions." Her freest ending: her faith goes out into the wide world instead of staying inside the Temple walls.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, choose "Want to find out? Do one thing today you've never done before." (she climbs the cherry tree).
- In Romance Scene II, at the confession booth, choose "Say it to my face."
- Chosen automatically at the festival; it takes priority over her other endings.

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Great Battle Axe; she also likes Raw Wyvern Steak, a Keg of Dwarven Ale, a Bottle of Rum and a Horn of Honey Mead. Avoid the Imported Tea Set and Exotic Perfume.
- Her favourite date is a Picnic in Whisperwood. Find her at the Arena & Training Grounds by day and the Tipsy Wyvern in the evening.
- Train Might: her checks are Might 2, 3, 3 and 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Might 2 and 3 to unlock. Warchief needs Might 4.

☐ Warrior's Bond

MAIN ENDING

A proper Ironjaw wedding: shouting, an axe ceremony, a three-day feast and a ritual headbutt. You earn her father's blessing by losing an arm-wrestle bravely, live in the ever-growing hut in the hills, and cheer from the stands while she keeps winning. The classic warrior romance: she stays a champion.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending: you get it whenever neither variant's conditions are met.
- To avoid Warchief: don't combine carrying her in Romance Scene III with winning the lift (Romance Scene I) or the courting fight (Romance Scene II).
- To avoid Gentlest Orc: don't choose both "You're not too much, Brakka. You're exactly enough." (Romance Scene I) and "Only if I get to court you back." (Romance Scene II).

☐ Warchief of the Ironjaw

VARIANT

Her father climbs the hill with twenty war-painted orcs and lays his axe at her feet. Brakka goes home invited, not exiled, becomes Warchief, and outlaws calling anyone "too much." You are her mate, her war-counsel and the only one allowed to tell her no. Her triumphant ending: the exile reclaims her clan.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "Pick her up. (Yes, all of her.)" and pass the Might 4 check.
- Plus any one of: in Romance Scene I, "Try with everything you have." (pass Might 3); or in Romance Scene II, "I accept your challenge, Brakka Ironjaw." (pass Might 3).
- Chosen automatically at the festival, ahead of her other endings.

☐ The Gentlest Orc in the World

VARIANT

Brakka admits she is tired of fighting and wants a garden. She retires from the arena undefeated to an eleven-minute ovation, and you open a cactus nursery together, Brakka's Prickly Friends. Her softest ending: she trades the arena for growing things, and the soft heart turns out to be her strongest part.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, at the feast, choose "You're not too much, Brakka. You're exactly enough."
- In Romance Scene II, when she offers the token, choose "Only if I get to court you back."
- Chosen automatically at the festival, unless you also met Warchief's conditions, which win. If needed, choose "It's perfect, Brakka." in Romance Scene III.

Dinner at the Tipsy Wyvern

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Sparkling Gemstone; she also likes a Gilded Hand Mirror, Pearl Comb, Silver Dagger, Ordinary Fork, Glitter Nail Polish and Saintly Relic (Probably). Never give a Cute Plushie or Rare Moonherbs.
- Her favourite date is Dinner at the Tipsy Wyvern. She is only at Dragonspire Peak, in the morning and afternoon.
- Watch for her jealousy side event: it fires once, on an afternoon between her Romance Scenes I and III, once another heroine has finished her Romance Scene II. Its choices can lock in a variant.
- Might matters most (checks at 2, 3 and 4; Romance Scenes II and III need Might 2 and 3), but the jealousy event has a key Charm 3 check.

☐ The Most Precious Treasure

MAIN ENDING

You move into the cave (gold bed frame, normal mattress), coax her into lending gold for a bridge, a school and a hospital, and she counts you every morning, one kiss at a time, after the coins. The balanced ending: she keeps her hoard, but knows it isn't her greatest treasure.

HOW TO GET IT

- The default ending: you get it whenever neither variant's conditions are met.
- If the jealousy event happens, don't choose "Then catalogue me...", and don't pass the Charm 3 check on "Gold stays because it can't leave..."
- Don't pair "Turn out your pockets..." (First Meeting) with "Take her clawed hand and hold it." (Romance Scene II).
- Don't pair "I'll always fight for you, Ignivara." (Romance Scene II) with "I'll make you a new treasure from the melted gold." (The Morning After).

☐ Item Forty-One Thousand, Six Hundred and Nine

VARIANT

She presses a golden key into your hand: the key to the secret vault beneath the hoard. You are entered in her ledger as Item 41,609, then polished, appraised and showered with tribute, and each month you add your own small treasures to her vault. Her most possessive ending, and a joyfully cherished one.

HOW TO GET IT

- Either: in the jealousy side event, choose "Then catalogue me. Properly. I'd like to be in the good pile."
- Or: choose "I'll always fight for you, Ignivara." in Romance Scene II and "I'll make you a new treasure from the melted gold." in The Morning After.
- Chosen automatically at the festival, unless you passed the Charm 3 "Gold stays..." check in the jealousy event, which leads to The Dragon Who Let Go instead.

☐ The Dragon Who Let Go

VARIANT

Ignivara gives the Greatest Hoard away, pile by pile, to hospitals, libraries and the town, then leaves the mountain to fly the world with you. She keeps only a coin on a chain and a notebook of wonders she could never keep. Unlike her other endings, she gives up the hoard altogether: the trick was to fly.

HOW TO GET IT

- Either: in the jealousy side event, choose "Gold stays because it can't leave. I come back because I want to." and pass the Charm 3 check.
- Or: choose "Turn out your pockets to prove you haven't taken anything." in First Meeting and "Take her clawed hand and hold it." in Romance Scene II (as long as you didn't agree to be catalogued in the jealousy event).
- Chosen automatically at the festival; the jealousy-event route takes priority over everything.

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is Honey Cakes; she also likes a Cute Plushie, Exotic Perfume, Steamy Romance Novel, Box of Fine Chocolates, Glitter Nail Polish and Scented Bath Salts. Never give a Blessed Candle or Saintly Relic (Probably).
- Her favourite date is Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor. Find her in the Noble Quarter in the afternoon and the Tipsy Wyvern in the evening.
- Her checks run Charm 1 to 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Charm 2 and 3 to unlock.
- Romance Scene II is the fork: standing up to the Dean (Charm 3) leads toward Head of the Class, trusting her toward Sinfully Sweet. Failing the Dean check gives you neither.

☐ Graduated With Honors (in Love)

MAIN ENDING

Lilette takes the Dean's teaching job but stays in the mortal realm, sending lessons by fire-sparrow from your cottage. Her course, Falling In Love On Purpose, becomes the Academy's most popular. She still trips over her tail, but she glows every day. A sweet happily-ever-after, rooted firmly in Clichéton.

HOW TO GET IT

- At the festival, when she asks "Will you keep me?", choose "Answer her with a kiss."
- It is always available, and the only option if you haven't unlocked either variant.

☐ Head of the Class

VARIANT

You tell her to take the job properly, on campus, and to bring you along. The Dean hires you too, as Visiting Lecturer in Mortal Studies. Lilette becomes the Abyss's most beloved professor and, fifty years on, Dean herself. Her most ambitious ending: she finally masters seduction, the loving way.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene I, "Teach her a real smoldering glance." (pass Charm 2); or in Romance Scene III, "Gently tilt her chin up and give her a perfect smoldering glance." (pass Charm 4).
- In Romance Scene II, choose "Stand up to the Dean..." and pass the Charm 3 check.
- At the festival, choose "Don't stay here for me. Take the job properly, on campus — and take me with you."

☐ Sinfully Sweet

VARIANT

Asked what she actually wants, Lilette realises it isn't teaching: it's baking. She opens Sinfully Sweet on Market Street, and every bit of joy her customers feel drifts back across the counter to feed her. The homiest ending, where she leaves the Academy's idea of success behind entirely.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene I, "Honestly? You're cuter when you just smile."; or in Romance Scene III, "Sit beside her. 'Throw out the handbook. Just be you.'"
- In Romance Scene II, choose "Go ahead, Lilette. I trust you." directly (failing the Dean check doesn't count).
- At the festival, choose "Lilette. Is teaching seduction what you actually want?"

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Keg of Dwarven Ale; she also likes Clockwork Gears, a Great Battle Axe, a Sparkling Gemstone, Raw Wyvern Steak and a Horn of Honey Mead. Never give a Bouquet of Roses, Exotic Perfume or Glitter Nail Polish.
- Her favourite date is a Picnic in Whisperwood; find her on Artisan's Row by day and at the Tipsy Wyvern in the evening. On the Moonlit Gardens date, tucking a rose behind her ear helps unlock Iron Roses.
- Her checks run Might 1 to 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Might 2 and 3 to unlock.
- Ask to see her sketchbook in Romance Scene I if you want her most romantic ending.

☐ Forged Together

MAIN ENDING

Her speech falls apart, so Hilde simply stands there and asks you to marry her, with a ring of braided starsilver and gold. The forge gets a new sign, the jewellery outsells the axes, and her father hugs her for the first time in fifty years. Gruff and honest: she finally makes the delicate things.

HOW TO GET IT

- At the festival, when her speech falls apart, choose "Wait. Let her find the words."
- It is always available, and the only option if you haven't unlocked either variant.

☐ Shield-Bonded

VARIANT

You ask for a proposal the dwarven way, so it is off to the Ironpeaks: drinking with the elders, hauling granite up four hundred steps and swapping handmade shields. Her father crosses you out of the Book of Grudges. The most traditional ending, which makes you a Stonebrew under the mountain.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene I, "Drink!" (pass Might 2); or in Romance Scene II, "Shove Hilde clear of the falling rocks." (pass Might 3).
- At the festival, choose "Ask me the dwarven way, Hilde. Properly."

☐ Iron Roses

VARIANT

You beat her to it and kneel. Hilde bursts into furious tears, confesses she has read every elf ballad, and recites a terrible Dwarvish poem. Once she stops pretending, she is the most romantic person in the kingdom: an iron rose every week and every anniversary marked. The ending that reveals her secret heart.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, on the walk home, choose "Will you show me your sketchbook sometime?"
- Plus any one of: "Then make one. For me. I'll wear it every day." in Romance Scene II; lifting her onto the workbench in Romance Scene III (pass Might 4); or tucking a rose behind her ear on the Moonlit Gardens date.
- At the festival, choose "Beat her to it. Get down on one knee."

- Her favourite date is Dinner at the Tipsy Wyvern, which Have Tub, Will Travel also requires. She is at Saltbreeze Harbor in the morning and afternoon.
- Her checks run Charm 1 to 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Charm 2 and 3 to unlock. A Sea Change needs Charm 4.

☐ Between the Tides

MAIN ENDING

The Sea King blesses Coralie so she can switch between tail and legs at will. You build a cliffside house with a sea-cave beneath, she gets a horse called Captain Four-Legs, and her father visits every Starfall, mostly for the bread. The both-worlds ending: land and sea, shared equally.

HOW TO GET IT

- At the festival, when the Sea King lifts his trident, choose "Hold her hand and let him finish."
- It is always available, and the only option if you haven't unlocked either variant.

☐ A Sea Change

VARIANT

Instead of Coralie coming up, you ask to go down. The Sea King gives you a silver-pink tail you have no idea how to use, and you become Royal Ambassador to the Surface for a court that decrees forks are for hair. The most transformative ending: you give up the land for her.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "Kiss me first. Here, under the moon." and pass the Charm 4 check.
- At the festival, choose "Your Majesty, wait. I don't want her to come up. I want to come down."

☐ Have Tub, Will Travel

VARIANT

Coralie tells her father she doesn't want legs: she likes her tail, she just wants to see everything. With a conch for emergencies, you push her wheeled copper bathtub across the kingdom while she writes A Mermaid's Guide to the Surface (Mostly Correct). The adventurous ending, with no transformation needed.

HOW TO GET IT

- Take her on the Dinner at the Tipsy Wyvern date at least once.
- Plus any one of: in Romance Scene I, "Gently explain what everything really is." (pass Charm 2); in Romance Scene II, "Sweep her into your arms and carry her."; or in Romance Scene II, "Dance with her, one last time..." (pass Charm 3).
- At the festival, choose "Squeeze her hand. 'Tell him about the bathtub, Coralie.'"

- Her favourite date is a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens. Find her on Market Street in the morning and in Whisperwood Forest later in the day.
- Her checks run Wits 1 to 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Wits 2 and 3 to unlock.
- Romance Scene II is the fork: reasoning it out (Wits 3) points toward A Coven of Two; drinking the antidote points toward The Scary Thing.

☐ Happily Ever Potion

MAIN ENDING

You open Hazelbrook's Remedies & Mostly Safe Wonders on Market Street. The shop explodes only monthly, the orphanage never lacks medicine, and Croaksworth officiates your wedding. On the windowsill sits the unused love potion, proof that the best magic never needed brewing. Cosy, chaotic and content.

HOW TO GET IT

- At the festival, after the kiss, choose "Stay just like this, under the stars."
- It is always available, and the only option if you haven't unlocked either variant.

☐ A Coven of Two

VARIANT

You ask Morwen to teach you witchcraft. Three years, six burnt hats and one accidentally restored duke later, you earn a forest-green hat of your own, and even her terrifying mother concedes that a coven of two still counts. The partnership ending: you become a witch beside her.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in First Meeting (as a frog), "Hop over to her potion shelf and point at the antidote." (pass Wits 1); or in Romance Scene I, "Examine them closely." (pass Wits 2).
- In Romance Scene II, choose "Reason it out..." and pass the Wits 3 check.
- At the festival, choose "Morwen. Teach me. Properly. I want to be a witch too."

☐ The Scary Thing

VARIANT

Her golden vial holds nine years of brewed courage. Remembering how you drank an antidote you didn't need, Morwen pours it out and proposes, shaking but unaided, then opens Courage Consultations to teach nervous suitors to do the scary thing. Her bravest ending: growth without any magic at all.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Morwen. Make the antidote. I'll drink it right now." directly (failing the Wits 3 reasoning check doesn't count).
- Your choice at the cauldron in Romance Scene I doesn't matter: both "You're amazing when you brew" and "Offer to deliver it with her" count.
- At the festival, choose "Ask about the little golden vial in her pocket."

- Her favourite date is a Picnic in Whisperwood. Find her in the Town Square in the morning and at the Tipsy Wyvern later in the day.
- Her checks run Charm 1 to 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Charm 2 and 3 to unlock.
- The court bow in Romance Scene III (Charm 4) is the big fork: pass it for Long Live the Queen, or skip or fail it to keep Just Aura open.

☐ The Barmaid Princess — MAIN ENDING

You marry in the capital's cathedral with Bettina as guest of honour. Aurelia becomes the kingdom's most beloved Crown Princess and makes nobles learn to cook, mop and haggle, but one weekend a month she slips back to the Tipsy Wyvern to be Aura again. Royal duty, with a secret tavern escape.

HOW TO GET IT

- At the festival, after the King's blessing, choose "Hold her close and watch the stars fall."
- It is always available, and the only option if you haven't unlocked either variant.

☐ Just Aura — VARIANT

You ask the King if he has ever asked what she wants. Aurelia renounces the throne to her drain-obsessed cousin, ties on an inside-out apron, buys into the Tipsy Wyvern and becomes Assistant Manager of Spillage. Her father visits in a false beard. The ending where she stays a commoner, for good.

HOW TO GET IT

- Any one of: in Romance Scene II, "Then don't go back. Stay here."; or in Romance Scene III, end up on the goat line (choose "I'd have you if you were a barmaid, a princess, or a goat.", or fail the Charm 4 bow).
- Plus any one of: "Help her mop it up." in First Meeting; "Buy her a meat pie from a street stall." in Romance Scene I; or "Splash her with fountain water." in Romance Scene I.
- At the festival, choose "Tell the King what she told you in the storeroom: she was happier in the tavern."

☐ Long Live the Queen — VARIANT

You kneel, not to the King, but to her. Aurelia tells her father she is ready, and he retires with enormous relief. Queen Aura holds open court in an apron, makes the Council haggle for its budget and hides a mop behind a throne-room tapestry. Her most regal ending: she rules because she chose to.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "Bow — a perfect court bow — and kiss her hand." and pass the Charm 4 check.
- Plus any one of: in First Meeting, "Your accent slipped, Your Highness." (pass Charm 1); in Romance Scene II, "Step out and bluff the guards." (pass Charm 3); or in Romance Scene II, "You're not just running away, Aurelia. You're running toward something."
- At the festival, choose "Kneel. Not to the King. To her."

- Her checks run Charm 2 to 4, and Romance Scenes II and III need Charm 2 and 3 to unlock. Closing Time needs Charm 4.
- Ask about Harold in Romance Scene I; she never forgets that you did.

☐ Last Call, First Love

MAIN ENDING

You run the Tipsy Wyvern together under a new sign naming you co-proprietor. She still flirts with every customer, but each night ends with two glasses on the wobbly bar, and your portrait hangs beside Harold's on the landing. A warm second chance at forever, right where her heart has always been.

HOW TO GET IT

- At the festival, after she says she loves you, choose "Kiss her back, and let the stars do the rest."
- It is always available, and the only option if you haven't unlocked either variant.

☐ Bettina's Ruin

VARIANT

She pulls a deck of cards from her bodice and gambles for your hand, just as Harold once won her ring, in a game she has rigged so you cannot lose. Gruk, freshly ordained by post, marries you in the tavern, and she introduces you to everyone as "my ruin." The playful, flirtatious ending.

HOW TO GET IT

- At the festival, choose "Bettina... is that a deck of cards in your bodice?"

☐ Closing Time

VARIANT

Asked what she wants, Bettina admits it: the open sea, the trip she and Harold never took. She hands Gruk the keys, and you follow Harold's old map down the coast to Gullwater, coming home after a year and a day. Her most freeing ending: she finally lives for herself, not the tavern.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "Only if you let me take care of you for once." and pass the Charm 4 check.
- Plus any one of: "Tell me about him." in Romance Scene I; tucking a curl behind her ear in Romance Scene II (pass Charm 3); or "Then I'll take you. One day. I promise." on the Saltbreeze Harbor date.
- At the festival, choose "What do you want, Bettina? Not the tavern. Not the town. You."

Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Sparkling Gemstone (she keeps it where her heart would be). She likes most cute or shiny things, from Honey Cakes to an Ordinary Fork, but avoid the Bottle of Rum and Scented Bath Salts.
- Take her to Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor, her favourite date.
- She's in the Sewers all day, every day. Wits is her stat: you need Wits 2 for Romance Scene II and Wits 3 for Scene III, and every scene has a Wits check (1 to 4).
- Romance Scene III's Wits 4 check decides which variant you can reach: pass it for Professor Bloop, skip or fail it for Down the Drain.

☐ A Perfect Fit — MAIN ENDING

Gloria leaves the sewers for the first time, and the falling stars swirl inside her like a stained-glass window. The town builds her a canal house with a heated pool and a private pipe to her old tunnels. It's the gentle middle path, half in her world and half in yours.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Hold her hand and watch the stars together."

☐ Professor Bloop — VARIANT

Told she could learn anything, Gloria pulls out the soggy Academy prospectus she's read four hundred times. She becomes the first slime student, then Clichéton's Chief Engineer of Waterworks, sure of her shape and her mind. This is the bright, ambitious take on her story.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, pass "Help her hold her shape, piece by piece" (Wits check 4).
- Also do any one of: in First Meeting, pass "Are you the reason the town doesn't smell?" (Wits 1); in Romance Scene I, pass "Help her figure out who it belongs to" (Wits 2); or in Romance Scene II, pass "Make the case with facts" (Wits 3).
- At the festival, choose "You could come up here every day, you know. You could learn anything."

☐ Down the Drain (Happily) — VARIANT

You offer to come down for good, and Gloria melts joyfully into your lap. The old cistern becomes a lantern-lit Museum of Lost Things, and you're sworn in as Warden of the Underworks. The coziest ending: she never has to hold a shape again, and the stars shine down through the grates.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "You don't have to be human. I love you the way you are." (Failing the Wits 4 shape check also counts.)
- Also do any one of: in First Meeting, choose "I'm okay! This is actually kind of comfortable."; in The Morning After, choose "Ask her to give you back your belt, too."; or in Romance Scene II, choose "Hug her tight, slime and all" instead of "I think I love you too."
- At the festival, choose "Or I could come down there. For good."

SELF-PROCLAIMED ISEKAI PROTAGONIST

Hikari Hoshino

Hikari is an earnest, dramatic young woman from "Tokyo" who is certain she's the Chosen Hero, and has been waiting six months for her cheat skill to kick in. Play along with her story, back her up with Might, and be ready for Starfall, when a door home finally opens.

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Spell Scroll; she also likes Fried Tofu Pockets, Honey Cakes, a Cute Plushie and a Steamy Romance Novel. Avoid Raw Wyvern Steak.
- Take her for a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens, her favourite date.
- Might is her stat (Might 2 for Romance Scene II, Might 3 for Scene III). The Might 3 back-to-back fight in Scene II is the key to The Hero After All.
- Find her at the Adventurers' Guild in the morning, the Town Square in the afternoon and the Tipsy Wyvern in the evening.

☐ Isekai'd Into Love

MAIN ENDING

A portal to Tokyo opens over the festival; Hikari sends her mother a letter and stays. The goddess reveals she was never meant to be the hero, but the heroine. You become a famous adventuring duo, and she opens a ramen shop that's never quite right. It's the classic "stay for love" ending.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final options).
- At the festival, choose "Squeeze her hand, and let her say goodbye."
- When the goddess appears, choose "Kiss her back while the stars fall."

☐ The Hero After All

VARIANT

You ask why she can't be hero and heroine both, and the delighted goddess snaps her fingers: STATUS OPEN finally works. Hikari gets her status window, real quests and a party of two. She still stays in FantasyLandia, but this time she gets every single thing she wished for.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, pass "Fight at her side, back to back" (Might check 3).
- Also do any one of: in First Meeting, choose "I'm your mysterious rival." or "Climb onto the table with her and shout 'STATUS OPEN!' too"; or in Romance Scene I, choose "You were pretty heroic with that river throw."
- At the festival, choose "Squeeze her hand, and let her say goodbye." Then, when the goddess appears, choose "Why can't she be both?"

☐ Reverse Isekai

VARIANT

You offer to go with her, and you step through the portal together into rain and neon. Now you're the weird one: you can't open a rice ball, get lost on trains, and eat her mother's very carroty curry. It's the only ending where you leave FantasyLandia, coming back each Starfall.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Tell me about your mom's bad curry."
- In Romance Scene III, choose "Whatever you choose, I'll support you." or pass "What do you want, Hikari? Not the hero. You." (Might check 4; failing it also works). Just don't choose "Stay. Please. Stay with me."
- At the festival, as soon as the portal opens, choose "...Or we could both go."

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Cute Plushie; she also likes Honey Cakes, a Silver Dagger, a Great Battle Axe and Horn of Honey Mead. Avoid a Steamy Romance Novel and Exotic Perfume.
- Take her on a picnic in Whisperwood, her favourite date.
- Might is her stat (Might 2 for Romance Scene II, Might 3 for Scene III). Romance Scene III's Might 4 check decides between her two variants.
- She drills at the Arena & Training Grounds in the morning and afternoon, and is in the Noble Quarter in the evening.

☐ Sworn to the Heart — MAIN ENDING

Brunhild takes your hand in front of the whole town, declares her love, and gets a kiss under the falling stars. She becomes Knight-Commander with you beside her, writes a tenet protecting small soft things, and "just kill me"/"not today" becomes your public I-love-you. She stays a commander, just a gentler one.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Kiss her."

☐ The Knight and Her Liege — VARIANT

You ask her to kneel and swear again before everyone, and she does, loudly, Tuesday bakery trips included. She turns down Knight-Commander to serve as your devoted sworn sword, tasting your soup for poison and defending a tiny vegetable patch from rabbits. It's the most formal, devoted version of her love.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "Take the sword and knight her: touch each shoulder. 'I accept.'" (Failing the Might 4 "kneel as an equal" check also leads here.)
- At the festival, choose "Then kneel, Dame Brunhild. Swear it again, here, where everyone can hear."

☐ The Order of the Soft Shield — VARIANT

She unbuckles her breastplate in front of the town and lifts Sir Fluffington to see the stars, and half the hill pulls out plushies of their own. She founds an order of knights sworn to protect kittens, ducklings and lost children, with you as its first knight. Here she stops hiding her softness for good.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, pass "Lay the sword aside and kneel down in front of her, as an equal" (Might check 4).
- In Romance Scene I, choose either "Kneel down and pet the kitten too." or "Softness isn't weakness. Protecting small things is what knights are for." (one is enough).
- At the festival, choose "Unbuckle the breastplate. Let Sir Fluffington see the stars."

HAUGHTY VILLAINESS ("OHOHOHO!")

Lady Rosalind Ashcroft

Lady Rosalind plays the jilted villainess magnificently, with cutting remarks, a fan for every occasion and that "OHOHOHO!", while secretly funding half the town's charities. Charm wins her over, and her endings turn on one thing: do you join the act, or help her drop it?

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is an Imported Tea Set; she also likes a Bouquet of Roses, Exotic Perfume, a Pearl Comb and a Box of Fine Chocolates. Avoid Fresh Fish and a Keg of Dwarven Ale.
- Take her on a picnic in Whisperwood, her favourite date. She's in the Noble Quarter all day.
- Charm is her stat (Charm 2 for Romance Scene II, Charm 3 for Scene III), and every scene has a Charm check.
- Watch for her jealousy side event, a one-time afternoon ambush on Market Street. It can happen after her Romance Scene I but before her Scene III, once another heroine has finished her own Romance Scene II. Your choice there unlocks either variant on its own.

☐ The Villainess's Happy Ending

MAIN ENDING

Asked what happens to the villainess now, Rosalind decides to stay one, because society needs someone to call its hats hideous. You marry in the rose garden, and her legendary tea parties ban only the cruel. She keeps the drills, the fan and the laugh, and you're her partner in secret kindness.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "That's up to you. It's your story."

☐ Partners in Crime

VARIANT

You laugh the villainess laugh at the whole hill, and Rosalind joins in: two perfect *"OHOHOHO!"*s in harmony. You become Clichéton's most dreadful couple, publicly ruining corrupt landlords and magistrates while every repaid coin goes secretly to the orphans. Here she leans into the role, now with an accomplice.

HOW TO GET IT

- Either: in her jealousy side event, choose "Ohohoho! Count me in. What's my role?"
- Or do both of: in First Meeting, pass "Match her energy. 'OHOHOHO! ...Rue me!'" (Charm check 2), and in Romance Scene II, pass "Defend her publicly, with poise and wit" (Charm check 3).
- At the festival, choose "OHOHOHO!" (Laugh it with her, at the whole hill.)

☐ Exit, Villainess

VARIANT

You ask her to put down the fan, and before everyone she unpins her drills and confesses it all: the charities, the prince she never loved, and you. The hill applauds, to her horror. She learns to be liked, runs her charities openly and leaves her face uncovered. In this ending, the mask comes off.

HOW TO GET IT

- Either: in her jealousy side event, pass "There's no Heroine. There's no script..." (Charm check 3) or choose "Step under the bucket yourself and pull the cord." (Failing the Charm check doesn't count.)
- Or do both of: in Romance Scene I, choose "Do we need a fork? Can't I just pick it up?", and in Romance Scene II, choose "Because you never let anyone see the best of you. But I see it."
- At the festival, choose "Put down the fan, Rosalind. You don't need it tonight."

CLOCKWORK GIRL LEARNING TO FEEL

A stroll through the Moonlit Gardens

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is Clockwork Gears; she also likes a Spell Scroll, an Ancient Tome, an Ordinary Fork and an Enchanted Quill. She hates alcohol (Dwarven Ale, Rum, Honey Mead) and Scented Bath Salts.
- Take her for a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens, her favourite date.
- Wits is her stat (Wits 2 for Romance Scene II, Wits 3 for Scene III); every scene has a Wits check from 1 to 4. Find her on Artisan's Row by day and in the Town Square in the evening.
- You can unlock both variants in one run (for example, teach her tag in Scene I and pass the Wits 4 check in Scene III), then choose at the festival.

☐ A Heart Made of Clockwork

MAIN ENDING

Seven builds a device to predict the brightest falling star, then decides to believe the binding legend anyway: the most human thing she's ever done. Professor Gearwright returns from three years snowed in and weeps to see her smile. You run the workshop together, and she keeps filling notebooks about you.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Kiss her."

☐ Further Study Required

VARIANT

You ask her device where the stars will fall next year, and the year after, and Seven hears a proposal for a lifelong field study. You chase Starfall across glaciers and deserts, find the lost Professor in a northern monastery, and she publishes On Love: A Field Study. Here her curiosity becomes an adventure for two.

HOW TO GET IT

- Do any one of: in Romance Scene II, pass "Search the Professor's notes for a replacement" (Wits check 3); or in Romance Scene III, pass "Take her notebook and write the conclusion yourself" (Wits check 4).
- At the festival, choose "Ask your device where the stars fall next year. And the year after."

☐ No Further Data

VARIANT

You switch the device off, and for the first time Seven watches a star fall somewhere she didn't predict, and gasps. She closes her last notebook ("No further data required") and slowly learns to be surprised. It's the opposite of Further Study: a love she trusts instead of measures.

HOW TO GET IT

- Do any one of: in Romance Scene I, choose "Teach her to play tag."; or in Romance Scene II, choose "Stay with her. Hold her hand. Talk to her."
- At the festival, choose "Reach over and switch the device off. 'Don't predict this one.'"

Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Bouquet of Roses; she also likes an Imported Tea Set, a Pearl Comb, a Steamy Romance Novel and Silver Lute Strings. Avoid holy things (Blessed Candle, Saintly Relic) and the Gilded Hand Mirror.
- She can only be found at Hollowmere Manor in the evening, so plan your evenings around her.
- Take her to Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor, her favourite date. Wits is her stat (Wits 2 for Romance Scene II, Wits 3 for Scene III).
- The Debutante, Belatedly takes priority over her other endings: if you set it up, you get it automatically.

☐ A Heartbeat at Starfall

MAIN ENDING

On the manor roof, far from the festival, you tell Ophelia the stars' binding counts for the dead too. The goddess sends a star straight into her chest, and she has a heartbeat again. You restore Hollowmere together, and she eats cake for breakfast for a month. It's the tender second-chance-at-life ending.

HOW TO GET IT

- Don't set up The Debutante, Belatedly (see below), or you'll get that ending instead.
- This is the default ending otherwise. On the roof, choose "Lay your hand as near to hers as it will go. 'I think it counts.'"

☐ Haunted by You

VARIANT

Offered a wish, Ophelia skips the tidy ending: she doesn't want to stop haunting, only to stop haunting a house. The star binds her to your locket instead, and she follows you everywhere: travelling, critiquing fashions, frosting rude people's soup. She stays a ghost, and you become the most thoroughly haunted person in the kingdom.

HOW TO GET IT

- Don't set up The Debutante, Belatedly (see below), or you'll get that ending instead.
- Do any one of: in First Meeting, choose "That was a beautiful wail. Very haunting."; or in The Morning After, choose "Haunt me all you like."
- On the roof, choose "Make a wish, Ophelia. On the brightest one. Anything you like."

☐ The Debutante, Belatedly

VARIANT

The festival comes to Hollowmere: Ophelia descends the staircase where she once waited all night, and this time you're waiting at the bottom. Mid-waltz, a star falls through the broken dome and makes her alive. She becomes Clichéton's most scandalous hostess, and she never sits out a dance again.

HOW TO GET IT

- Chosen automatically at Starfall (no final choice needed) if you've done any one of the following:
- In The Morning After, choose "Next time there's a ball in this house, it's yours. Every dance. I promise."
- Or do both of: in First Meeting, pass "Notice the dust sheets — she's set a table for two" (Wits check 1), and in Romance Scene I, pass "Ask her to teach you the old dances" (Wits check 2).

- Her favourite gift is a Bottle of Rum; she also likes a Silver Dagger, a Sparkling Gemstone, a Pearl Comb and Fresh Fish. Never give her an Imported Tea Set.
- Take her to Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor, her favourite date; she even mentions it at Starfall.
- Might is her stat (Might 2 for Romance Scene II, Might 3 for Scene III), with Might checks in every scene. Find her at Saltbreeze Harbor by day and the Tipsy Wyvern in the evening.
- Home Port is decided early, in Romance Scene I, so choose carefully on the rigging.

☐ A Heart for a Compass

MAIN ENDING

Out on the lantern-lit deck of the Crimson Tide, Scarlett asks you to be her first mate and her spouse, and you say yes. You marry aboard, sail the Sapphire Sea freeing slave ships and fighting krakens, and come home every Starfall. It's the classic life of adventure, with Blackheart's compass still pointing to you.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Say yes."

☐ Home Port

VARIANT

You say yes, then ask what would happen if she didn't have to leave. Scarlett drops her hat on Bones's head, gives him the ship, and stays as just Red, becoming the best harbormaster in the kingdom's history. In this settling-down ending you wave hello from the pier each evening, and the compass points at your house.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, choose "I think I'd rather see what's right here."
- At the festival, choose "Say yes. And then: 'Red... what if you didn't have to leave?'"

☐ Two Ships, One Sea

VARIANT

You accept the ring but turn down first mate: you want a ship of your own. That night you steal one from the Navy dock and become rival captains, outdoing and boarding each other across the Sapphire Sea. You're equals and sparring partners, each wearing a compass whose needle points toward the other.

HOW TO GET IT

- Do any one of: in Romance Scene I, pass "Fight back with everything you've got" (Might check 2); or in Romance Scene III, pass "Pin her against the map table and kiss her. Pirate-style." (Might check 4).
- At the festival, choose "Say yes. And then: 'First mate? Captain, I want a ship of my own.'"

THE NARRATOR (FOURTH-WALL-BREAKING GODDESS)

Amorette, Goddess of Love

Amorette, Goddess of Love, has been narrating your life all along, and has never had a love story of her own. Only the truly charming can win her, so bring plenty of Charm. Her endings ask whether she stays half divine, comes down to be mortal, or takes you up with her.

A stroll through the Moonlit Gardens

TIPS

- She only appears after the goddess's dream on the morning of day 15, and only at the Temple of the Radiant Heart in the evening. Build Charm early (Charm 2 for Romance Scene II, Charm 3 for Scene III) so you can move quickly.
- Her favourite gift is a Steamy Romance Novel; she also likes a Bouquet of Roses, a Box of Fine Chocolates, Honey Cakes, Exotic Perfume and Vintage Bloodwine. Avoid Clockwork Gears.
- Her favourite date is a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens, but the Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor date is worth taking too: one choice there unlocks Just a Woman with Pink Hair with no stat check.
- Every romance scene has a Charm check (2 to 4).

☐ The Narrator's Own Story

MAIN ENDING

Amorette arrives in a shower of rose petals, makes the stars spell your names, and lets you choose her ending. You ask her to stay just as she is: mornings arranging romances in the heavens, evenings in a cottage with you. It's the in-between ending, wrapped up by a flustered substitute narrator named Kevin.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Stay just as you are. Half the sky, half a cottage. All mine."

☐ Just a Woman with Pink Hair

VARIANT

You ask her to come all the way down, and she lets go of the golden thread that ties her to the sky; her eyes fade to ordinary brown. She catches her first cold, opens a romance bookshop, learns naps and sunsets, and throws a party for her first grey hair. She trades divinity for not knowing what happens next.

HOW TO GET IT

- Do any one of: in Romance Scene II, pass "Make her laugh. 'Being mortal's great. We have naps.'" (Charm check 3); or on the Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor date, choose "Don't narrate it. Just watch it with me."
- At the festival, choose "Come down, then. All the way. I'll teach you naps. And sunsets."

☐ Patron of the Second Glance

VARIANT

You ask to go up with her, and you feel every heartbeat in town as your feet leave the hill. You become a minor deity, the Patron of the Second Glance, narrating love stories side by side with her. It's the opposite of the mortal ending: she stays divine, and for the first time she isn't telling it alone.

HOW TO GET IT

- Do any one of: in Romance Scene I, choose "You can be the heroine of mine."; or in Romance Scene III, pass "Do you want to narrate this part, or should I?" (Charm check 4).
- At the festival, choose "Take me up with you. Let me help you tell them."

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is Fried Tofu Pockets; she also likes Honey Cakes, a Cute Plushie and a Steamy Romance Novel. Never give her a Gilded Hand Mirror or a Spell Scroll.
- Take her for a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Wits, but the branching happens in the romance scenes: Scene I needs a Charm 2 or Wits 2 check, while Scene II's shrine choices and Scene III's kiss set up the tail ending.
- Decide early which variant you want: the shrine and kiss choices lead to The Fourth Tail, while the Scene I street-con leads to Partners in Mischief.

☐ Right Every Time

MAIN ENDING

Kohana comes to the Starfall Festival as herself for the first time in four hundred years, no glamour at all, and simply stays. She keeps pranking the town but stops hiding, becoming openly, happily yours rather than earning a tail or turning outlaw.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Just hold her, and watch the sky."

☐ The Fourth Tail

VARIANT

By letting her be truly known, you help Kohana grow an impossible fourth tail on Starfall night and she becomes a proper guardian spirit again. Unlike the main ending, this one restores her shrine and her sacred role, not just her honesty.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene III, choose "I want you. Just you." and count her tails with a kiss for each.
- Also in Romance Scene II at the shrine, do at least one of: "Show me your real face. No illusions at all." or "Leave an offering of fried tofu in the bowl."
- At the festival, choose "Three tails or three hundred, I'll count every one."

☐ Partners in Mischief

VARIANT

You become Kohana's full accomplice, pulling a town-wide Starfall prank so nobody watches the stars alone. Where the other endings have her settle or grow sacred, this one keeps the chaos and makes it a two-person act.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, pass one of: the Charm check 2 ("Be her plant in the crowd, and sell it") or the Wits check 2 ("make the statue demand an offering").
- At the festival, choose "Want to pull one last trick on the whole town?"

- Her favourite gift is Scented Bath Salts; she also likes a Blessed Candle, an Imported Tea Set, a Cute Plushie and a Steamy Romance Novel. Avoid Exotic Perfume and a Great Battle Axe.
- Take her on a picnic in Whisperwood, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Charm, but her partner route hinges on Romance Scene I's boiler crisis (a Wits 3 or Charm 2 check).
- If your stats are low, you can still get the partner route the easy way: a no-check choice the morning after also works.

☐ The Warmest Place in Town

MAIN ENDING

Sesha braves her first Starfall Festival on your arm, and the two of you settle into the bathhouse exactly as it is, cozy and unchanged. It is the quiet, stay-at-home ending, without the shared sign or the travelling of her two variants.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Lean back into her coils and watch the stars."

☐ Under New Management

VARIANT

You become Sesha's business partner, your name carved on the sign beside hers, and together you open the Steamwhistle to every monster who's ever been turned away. Unlike the main ending, this one makes the bathhouse a shared project and a refuge.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I's boiler crisis, do any one of: pass the Wits check 3 ("Fix the boiler yourself"), pass the Charm check 2 ("Rally the guests"), or the morning after choose "Your boiler needs a new valve. I'll pick one up tomorrow."
- At the festival, choose "Let's run the Steamwhistle together. Partners."

☐ Wrapped Around the World

VARIANT

You coax Sesha out of the bathhouse to see the warm, far-off places she's always dreamed of, meeting each town's fear together. Where the others keep her home, this ending takes her adventuring across deserts and seas.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Have you ever been somewhere really warm? Somewhere far away?"
- At the festival, choose "The world's out there, Sesha. Let's go and see it."

TIPS

- She unlocks on day 6, so don't expect to meet her in your first week.
- Her favourite gift is a Horn of Honey Mead; she also likes a Keg of Dwarven Ale, a Raw Wyvern Steak, a Great Battle Axe and Honey Cakes. Avoid Rare Moonherbs and Exotic Perfume.
- Take her on a picnic in Whisperwood, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Might, but her variant endings need no stat checks: the two Romance Scene II choices are what decide them.

☐ Valkyrie of the Living

MAIN ENDING

Sigrun refuses the Hall-Father's summons, keeps her wings, and reinvents herself as a valkyrie who rescues the living instead of collecting the dead. It is the default outcome, keeping both her immortality and her wings where the variants trade one away.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't chosen either Romance Scene II line below (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Don't go back. Keep your wings. Stay here with me, and catch people instead of collecting them."

☐ Feet on the Ground

VARIANT

Sigrun gives her wings back to the High Hall to become mortal and grow old with you, savouring every blister, cold and grey hair. Unlike the main ending, she trades her immortality for an ordinary human lifetime at your side.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Then stay. Watch me get old. Find out what happens to a hero who lives."
- At the festival, choose "Stay with me. Really stay. Grow old with me, Sigrun."

☐ Until the Very End

VARIANT

Sigrun strikes a deal with the gods: she stays with her wings, you live a long mortal life, and she herself will be the one to carry you to the feast at the very end. This ending keeps both her wings and her promise, where the others give one up.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "When my time comes, a very long time from now, I want it to be you who comes for me."
- At the festival, choose "Go and tell them about our promise. You'll come for me at the very end..."

CAPRICIOUS FAIRY QUEEN

Queen Thistle of the Seelie Court

Thistle is a teacup-sized, nine-hundred-year-old fairy queen who makes bargains the way others breathe and never says thank you. Her route is about love that isn't a transaction, so the winning move is refusing to turn affection into a price.

Moonflower Nectar

LIKES

Bouquet of Roses, Honey Cakes, Gilded Hand Mirror, Sparkling Gemstone, Exotic Perfume, Cute Plushie

HATES

FAVORITE DATE

A stroll through the Moonlit Gardens

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is Moonflower Nectar; she also likes a Bouquet of Roses, Honey Cakes, a Gilded Hand Mirror, a Sparkling Gemstone, Exotic Perfume and a Cute Plushie. Avoid an Ordinary Fork, a Great Battle Axe and Clockwork Gears (she sneezes at iron).
- Take her for a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Wits; Romance Scene II offers a Wits 3 counter-offer, though you can reach the same flag by simply refusing to sign her bargain.
- Scene II is the fork: coaxing out her true name leads to Consort Under the Hill, while refusing her bargain leads to The Queen Who Set Down Her Crown.

☐ No Debts Between Us — MAIN ENDING

Thistle keeps her crown, her court and her temper, and loves you with no contract and no price, running a lifelong ledger that never balances on purpose. It is the default ending, where she stays queen rather than taking you under the hill or abdicating.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "We'll make it up as we go. No debts between us."

☐ Consort Under the Hill — VARIANT

You follow Thistle into the timeless Seelie palace beneath the hill to become her consort, where a night can be a year. Unlike the main ending, you leave the mortal world for fairyland rather than keeping her in Clicheton.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, when she offers her true name, choose "Tell me. I'll keep it safe."
- At the festival, choose "Take me under the hill. Make me your consort."

☐ The Queen Who Set Down Her Crown — VARIANT

Thistle gives up her crown and nine centuries of rule to live a full-sized mortal life with you in town, iron and sneezes and all. This ending frees her from the throne entirely, the opposite of taking you into her court.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, refuse her bargain: either "No. I won't sign it." or the Wits 3 counter-offer "I'll love you, and you give me nothing. Write that in." (either outcome of the check works).
- At the festival, choose "What if you didn't have to go back to the Court at all?"

FLIRTY BARD WHO WRITES SONGS ABOUT EVERYONE

Lyra Songsworth

Lyra is Clicheton's dazzling, flirty bard who writes wildly inaccurate love songs about everyone in town. Her route is about being the one person she sings the true, quiet songs for, so honesty and sharing her music matter most.

FAVORITE DATE

A picnic in Whisperwood

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is Silver Lute Strings; she also likes a Bouquet of Roses, a Keg of Dwarven Ale, Vintage Bloodwine, a Box of Fine Chocolates, a Gilded Hand Mirror and a Steamy Romance Novel. Avoid Fresh Fish and Clockwork Gears.
- Take her on a picnic in Whisperwood, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Charm. Romance Scene I offers a Charm 3 duet, but the duet sets its flag whether you pass or flub it, so you can sing along even with low Charm.
- Her single variant has several triggers, so it's easy to reach: the duet, a Scene II line, or a harbor-date question all qualify.

☐ The One True Song

MAIN ENDING

Lyra debuts her first true love song at the Starfall stage, then stays in Clicheton to play the Tipsy Wyvern every night and write you a hundred more. It is the default, homebody ending, where she settles in town rather than taking to the road.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't triggered the variant below (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "It was perfect. Stay. Write me a hundred more."

☐ Two for the Road

VARIANT

You and Lyra leave Clicheton the morning after Starfall to travel and perform together, finding new towns that have never heard her songs. Unlike the main ending, this one puts you both on the road as a travelling duo.

HOW TO GET IT

- Do any one of: in Romance Scene I sing the duet ("Jump up and sing the chorus with her", a Charm 3 check that counts win or lose); in Romance Scene II choose "Maybe you need to go somewhere nobody knows your songs."; or on the Saltbreeze Harbor date choose "Where would you go, if you could sail anywhere?"
- At the festival, choose "Now let's go and sing it somewhere nobody's heard it."

BATTLE NUN WITH A VERY BIG HAMMER

Sister Maud Ironveil

Sister Maud is a cheerful, six-and-a-half-foot battle nun who has matched hundreds of couples but has never once been courted, because everyone is too scared of her. Her route is about being the one brave enough to pursue her; the fork is whether she stays, leads, or roams.

FAVORITE DATE

A stroll through the Moonlit Gardens

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is a Saintly Relic (Probably); she also likes a Blessed Candle, a Raw Wyvern Steak, a Bouquet of Roses and Honey Cakes. Avoid Vintage Bloodwine and Exotic Perfume.
- Take her for a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Might, but her variants need no stat checks: they come from a Romance Scene I question and a Romance Scene II line.
- Ask what she'd do if she weren't a Sister (Scene I) to open the road ending; tell her the Order should be led by her (Scene II) to open the Abbess ending.

☐ Courted at Last

MAIN ENDING

You court Maud for a full year by every rite in the scriptures, and the town slowly stops fearing her as they watch someone stand beside her. It is the default ending, keeping her in Clicheton as a Sister rather than making her Abbess or a wanderer.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up either variant (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Stay just as you are, Maud. And let me court you properly. Every rite in the book."

☐ Mother Abbess, Plus One

VARIANT

Maud accepts the crozier to lead her Order with you right beside her, opening Smiting Tuesdays to the public and founding a festival of asking. Unlike the main ending, she rises to Abbess rather than remaining a rank-and-file Sister.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Your Order should be led by someone like you. Someone who goes down into the dark for people."
- At the festival, choose "Take the crozier. Lead them. I'll be right beside you."

☐ Have Hammer, Will Travel

VARIANT

Maud hangs up her veil to go monster-hunting with you, crossing names off the wish-list she's carried for years. Where the others keep her at the Temple, this ending takes her adventuring across the kingdom.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene I, choose "What would you do, if you weren't a Sister?"
- At the festival, choose "Hang up the veil. Let's go and find that lich."

SELF-PROCLAIMED RIVAL (RIVALS TO LOVERS)

Vespera Thornquill

Vespera is the Arcane Academy's top student who declared you her Eternal Rival after you beat her by accident, and she keeps the score in a leather ledger she's thrilled about. Her route is rivals-to-lovers; the choice is whether your rivalry becomes an endless, joyful contest or something you both set down.

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is an Enchanted Quill; she also likes an Ancient Tome, a Spell Scroll, Honey Cakes, a Blessed Candle and an Imported Tea Set. Avoid a Keg of Dwarven Ale and a Bottle of Rum.
- Take her for a stroll through the Moonlit Gardens, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Wits, but her single variant needs no check: it hinges on one Romance Scene II choice with the ledger.
- To open the variant, take the quill in Scene II and rule a third column labelled TOGETHER.

☐ Best of Infinity

MAIN ENDING

You start a brand-new ledger with Vespera and spend a lifetime cheerfully competing at everything, proposing to each other at the exact same moment. It is the default ending, keeping the rivalry alive forever rather than closing the book on it.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up the variant below (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Best of infinity. Starting now." and write the first tally of a new volume.

☐ The Ledger, Closed

VARIANT

Together you write a final line, close the ledger for good and stop keeping score at all, which for Vespera feels like flying. Unlike the main ending, she lays the rivalry to rest instead of carrying it on into infinity.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Take the quill and rule a third column: TOGETHER."
- At the festival, choose "Write one final line, and close the ledger together."

DARK ELF GYARU

Zyra Sunkiss

Zyra is a dark-elf gyaru who fled the Underdark, fell in love with the sun, and became Clicheton's loudest trend-chaser, while hiding that she was raised an assassin. Her route is about building the bright life she dreamed of; the fork is whether she stays in the sun or brings colour back down into the dark.

Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor

TIPS

- Her favourite gift is Glitter Nail Polish; she also likes a Sparkling Gemstone, Exotic Perfume, a Pearl Comb, a Gilded Hand Mirror and Honey Cakes. Avoid a Silver Dagger and a Great Battle Axe.
- Take her to watch the Sunset at Saltbreeze Harbor, her favourite date.
- Her stat is Charm, but her single variant needs no check: it turns on one Romance Scene II choice.
- To open the variant, in Scene II encourage her to bring colour to her own people in the Underdark.

☐ Literally Legendary

MAIN ENDING

Zyra stays in Clicheton and opens her dazzling shop, Sunkiss & Co., winning over the very townsfolk who once crossed the street to avoid her. It is the default ending, keeping her up in the sun rather than returning to the Underdark.

HOW TO GET IT

- This is the default ending, reached when you haven't set up the variant below (or whenever you pick its final option).
- At the festival, choose "Now we stay. And we build the thing you dreamed about, right here."

☐ Glitter in the Deep

VARIANT

You go down into the Weeping Dark with Zyra to bring colour, kindness and a Festival of Colors to the people she fled, then return each Starfall to watch the real stars. Unlike the main ending, this one takes her triumphantly home to the Underdark.

HOW TO GET IT

- In Romance Scene II, choose "Maybe your people need it more than anyone. Maybe the Dark could use a little color."
- At the festival, choose "Now we go down. Together. And we bring the sky with us."

The other endings

Four endings don't belong to a single heroine: the household, the cat, the greenhouse and the secret one.

☐ The Many-Hearted Household

HAREM ENDING

You climb onto a crate at the festival and ask them all. After a very long silence, the stars fall, and everyone ends up on one enormous picnic blanket. Your household becomes the talk of the kingdom: loud, chaotic, occasionally on fire, with a cooking rota that takes up an entire wall.

How to get it

1. Have at least five heroines Devoted (all three romance scenes seen) by the Starfall Festival on day 30.
2. At the festival, choose "Why not... all of you?"
3. Plan for it: five routes take careful juggling. Use the waiting days between one heroine's scenes to court the others, keep gifts flowing to everyone, and check the Who's Where panel each morning.

☐ Stargazing with a Cat

ALONE ENDING

You watch the Starfall from the edge of the hill with no one beside you except a stray cat. The Narrator offers some gentle advice. It isn't true love, but it isn't nothing.

How to get it

1. Reach the festival without any Devoted heroine, or choose "Watch the stars alone" at the festival even if someone is waiting for you.

☐ Locked in the Greenhouse

MARIGOLD BAD ENDING

The game's one bad end. Marigold takes the news that you love someone else very, very badly. You get to see her greenhouse up close. Permanently.

How to get it

1. Get Marigold to Friend or Close (her first or second romance scene seen, but not yet Devoted) while another heroine reaches Close or higher.
2. One evening she pulls you into an alley (her jealousy scene). Choose "I'm sorry, Marigold. I'm in love with someone else."
3. To avoid it: soothe her (Charm 3), or ask her to put the knife down. Either way the scene ends and your run continues.

☐ Happily Ever After (Unabridged)

TRUE ENDING

The secret ending. On a New Game+ run, you look past the falling stars at the one who has been telling this story, and find out why every Starfall starts over. You give the Narrator an ending of her own, and everyone you've met gets their happily-ever-after. It works whether or not you romanced Amorette, and acknowledges it if you did.

HOW TO GET IT

1. Finish any run, then choose "New Game+" on the ending screen. These choices only appear on a New Game+ run.
2. Day 1, the prologue: when the Narrator greets you, choose "Welcome... back?"
3. Day 7, evening (the imp spy): choose "What else do you remember?"
4. Day 13, morning (the investigation): after you follow your lead, choose "There's a folded note under your door. Read it."
5. Day 15, morning (the goddess dream): choose "We've done this before, haven't we?"
6. With all four loose threads found, a new option appears at the festival: "Look past the stars, at the one telling this story." Choose it.
